OVERVIEW

Ted is an employed barrister, specialising in charities law - where he was ranked as a 'Rising Star' in one of the leading directories and has been involved in a number of significant cases.
He practised full-time from Maitland Chambers between 2017 and 2026 where he carried out his pupillage from 2016 to 2017. He is no longer accepting new instructions through Chambers. If you have instructed him in the past, please contact the clerks at Maitland who will be pleased to arrange appropriate cover.
As a member of Chambers, Ted practised as an adviser and advocate across the full range of commercial disputes including those involving issues of companies and partnership law, insolvency and civil fraud. He also qualified as a mediator.
In 2019-2020 Ted worked at the UK Supreme Court where he served as Judicial Assistant to Lord Briggs of Westbourne which included exposure to leading commercial, charity and public law cases.
